

I agree the 27 month waiting period is too long. With changing technology shorter time periods must be considered. We will get behind in the world if restricted to such long periods.